

School Profile

Aviation High School is committed to providing a safe, respectful and disciplined learning environment for students and staff, where students from years 7 to 12 have opportunities to engage in quality learning experiences and acquire values supportive of their lifelong wellbeing. Opened in 2007, Aviation High School was established to provide direct pathways for students seeking careers in the aviation and aerospace industries in Queensland. The school curriculum at Aviation High School follows the national guidelines but has context and influence and much support through associations with aerospace and aviation industries that provide wonderful opportunities for students.

There is school-wide commitment to every student's success and strong support for the school's vision that 'students pursue academic excellence and social responsibility in a safe, supportive and nurturing environment' is apparent. Our students affirm a clear belief and feeling that our teachers genuinely care for them, which is mirrored by teachers noting their care for students. The school community shares a strong sense of optimism and resilience for the future. A culture of academic performance and high expectations is nurtured at the school. This is reflected in exceptional student achievement data when compared with schools across the nation.

Our school has instigated processes to support teaching and learning activities that set high expectations for students, promote deep learning and encourage students to be active learners and take risks. 'Student dispositions' and personal investment in academic success support the development of school-identified student attributes of self-motivation, perseverance and reflection, in addition to the mastery of difficult material. Our school leaders see the importance of supporting the technical and soft skills required for the future workforce.

The school provides direct pathways for students seeking careers in the aviation and aerospace industries. The aviation stream is supported with curriculum options from Year 7 to Year 12, a suite of extracurricular activities, excursions, resources and industry partnerships. A number of teachers at the school have industry qualifications. The school has consistently been recognised at the annual Aviation Aerospace Awards for both teachers and students. This includes being a six-time winner of the coveted aerospace teacher of the year award and best aerospace studies program in the state. The school has a growing alumnus of students who have successfully transitioned into the aviation industry.

Our school adheres to the national curriculum and delivers quality education across all Learning Areas to all students, whatever their aspirations. With 700 students and 60 teaching staff, the school is proudly creating traditions as a school of excellence in academic outcomes for students. These outcomes are enhanced by our quality Junior Secondary Education, indicated by our NAPLAN results. At Aviation High School, our unrelenting focus on student learning and improvement will continue with three priorities identified and planned for: Literacy and Numeracy Enhancement -Explicit Teaching – evidence-based teaching strategies: A Culture that promotes learning in every classroom Students can gain an Australian Tertiary Admission Rank (ATAR), a Queensland Certificate of Education (QCE) and VET qualifications while at school. We offer a wide range of senior subjects, both SATE and ATAR Registered, with our specialized programs being: Aerospace Studies (Authority subject; Aero skills; Cert III Unmanned Aerial Vehicle (UAV), Aircraft Maintenance Engineering (Certificate II, articulating into completion of the full Certificate IV following year 12) and Data Analytics.

The school places a high priority on building partnerships to enable young people to acquire the knowledge, skills and attributes to be successful. Students have a strong connection to clubs such as cadets, student council and Rotary, and speak positively of the Interact club's charitable work. Instrumental music and sporting options are highly regarded. The aviation specialisation is supported with Aero and Fly to Learn clubs, coding club, the aviation group and junior flight sims club. Parents are actively invited to partner in their children's learning, and are particularly supportive of the out of school hours' tutoring program and academic improvement program. Students express valuing the access to this additional learning opportunity supported through a school partnership with university and alumni students. Participation in school clubs is well sought after and our students and parents appreciate the time and effort school staff take to support these out-of-hours activities.

Aviation High is a school that believes strong relationships are at the core of all success. We value input from parents and believe that the stronger the relationship between the school, the home and the student, the more likely students are to succeed.

Vision

This opportunity allows 1:1 interactions or very small group discussions between parents and the team. 	✓	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Students with disabilities undergo a formalised transition program which includes weekly visits to spend time if required in a class, interacting in morning tea and lunchtime playground and visiting the library. 	✓	✓
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Success mainly comes from relationships and direct feedback via the range of channels we have. The establishment of these relationships often comes from other school strategies including interviews, orientations etc. A daily presence at the gate and around the playground connecting with parents. Relationships have already commenced via school processes before day one. This is continued with the support of our School Liaison Officers, GO and the leadership team who support parents and students on day one. P&C work directly with new parents through the provision of opportunities to connect them into our school. Many of our families identify as EALD we have staff available that can assist where needed. 	✓	✓
